1. Objective

To guarantee the quality standards of the facilities and the equipment that is installed in the Showrooms located at the Ground-floor, 11th Floor and Monterrey, N.L., in order to ensure the proper functioning of the space, and that the demonstrations carried out for Distributors, current and/or potential Customers continuously and permanently comply with:

a) Optimum quality images.
b) Standarized printing tests.
c) Perfectly functional equipment.
d) Detailed and precise explanation of the equipment and its applications.

2. Scope

The present policy is applicable to all the products that are installed in the Showrooms at the Ground-floor, 11th floor and Monterrey, N.L. that belong to the BISG and ITCG Business Units, in which events and demonstrations are carried out.

3. Showroom Use Guidelines

a) With the objective of guaranteeing an appropriate communication channel between all the areas involved, the use of the Showroom for demonstrations and events will be managed by the Corporate Communication department, in coordination with the BISG Business Solutions Development & Support area and the ITCG Planning and Business Intelligence.
b) The BISG and ITCG Marketing departments will be responsible of determining the equipment (models and serial number) which will be designated to the Showroom. The equipment to be used in exhibitions and events will be selected independently.
c) The equipment designated to the Showroom cannot be removed, except in exceptional cases, such as when they are intended to be used in a loan of equipment, events and demonstrations outside the facilities. In this case, the removal of equipment must be requested through the Lotus Notes database called "Equipment removal", previously authorized by the division Director.
d) The Service department cannot use the equipment in the Showroom for its cannibalization, except when the division Director authorizes it. It is an essential requirement that the equipment in the Showroom keeps permanently the same quality that shows during the events and exhibitions, according to the printing samples given by the Marketing department.

e) When, for any reason, the equipment is removed or disabled, it should be mentioned to all the users, in order to stop programming demonstrations with them.

4. Demonstrations Guidelines

a) The Sales department visits the customer.
b) The customer requests a demonstration and proposes dates for the visit.
c) The Sales department checks the Showroom availability.
d) Sales must reserve for the demonstration, with the anticipation required for each model, which is defined by the BISG Business Solutions Development & Support.
e) When making the request, the executive must indicate the type of business of the customer, as well as its exact requirements (programs required; types of files that the customer will bring to print, substrates, etc.).
f) The Sales Representatives will be responsible of carry out the equipment demonstrations. Business Solutions Development & Support will support in the solutions demonstration.
g) In case the equipment fails or does not comply with the quality standards, it will not be possible to carry out any demonstration. Consequently it will be cancelled and reprogrammed in the future.
f) The Sales Representative requests the demonstration, then the Showroom assistant verifies the availability and, in a positive case, she approves it. Later, the Service department gives its approval indicating that the equipment is in good conditions, and then Business Solutions Development & Support authorizes the demonstration, and designs a Specialist. The cycle is closed when the Corporate Communication Manager gives the approval, verifying that everything is correct to carry out the activity.
g) Before the demonstration, the specialist will previously review the equipment and the stock of consumables.
h) Sales will confirm the demonstration with 1 day of anticipation. Also, will ask the customer to bring its file, in order to carry out the printing tests and the specifications of the paper or substrate that usually does not use in the normal workflow. It is important to note that if the demonstration was delayed or cancelled, it is necessary to notify the Showroom, as well as the Business Solutions Development & Support department.
i) The executive will inform the specialist the customer's needs, so that he can be prepared.
j) Sales, together with the assigned customer, will support the customer during the demonstration.
k) The Sales Representative will be responsible of carrying out the printing samples; bringing detailed information about the equipment and its range, as well as give commercial information to the customer and follow up after the demonstration.
l) At the end of each demonstration, the Specialist will review the equipment and consumables, reporting to Service the status of the equipment.
m) In case of an anomaly, the Service department will receive comments and carry out the necessary adjustments.
n) The Sales Representative will inform Corporate Communication about the status of the demonstrations, the sales continuity and results, in order to evaluate the monthly goals accomplishment in demonstrations, according to the established by the business areas.
